FESTIVAL HALL, where the conventions of the world will meet in 1915. The building will be 380x200 feet, with greatest breadth of 280 feet, the latter being taken up by the wings. A vast auditorium with a huge stage will be a feature of the structure.

Florida Legislature Meets.

Tallahassee, Fla., April 8.—The regular annual session of the Florida legislature met and organized today. In his message to the lawmakers Governor Trammell recommends, among other things, a reduction in the legal rate of interest from 8 to 6 per cent, the abolition of the office of county treasurer, and a constitutional amendment granting home rule to the cities and towns of the state.

Illinois Lawyers in Session.

Springfield, Ill., April 8.—A gratifyingly large attendance marked the thirty-seventh annual meeting of the Illinois State Bar Association, which opened here today. Prominent lawyers and jurists from all sections of the State are present. The annual address will be delivered tomorrow by Congressman Henry D. Clayton of Alabama, chairman of the judiciary committee of the National house of representatives.

VETERANS WANT

LOWER RATE

Chattanooga, Tenn., April 8.—In the heat of any feeling which may exist in Texas and other trans-Mississippi states about the high railroad rates to Chattanooga for the 1913 Confederate reunion May 27-29, it is very much hoped that there will be no misunderstanding of the rate. Of course the reunion committee here is doing everything in its power to get the Southwestern Passenger association to make a more favorable rate, and the veterans and others interested throughout the west are doing all they can in bringing influences to bear on the railroads.

There is much fear that, looking at the rate as being a high one, the veterans and other reunion visitors will fail to realize that the one cent a mile rate becomes effective at the Mississippi river. This is absolutely official. No matter where a ticket is issued or from what point a passenger starts, his fare between Memphis, St. Louis or New Orleans and Chattanooga will be on a basis of one cent a mile each way.

General regret is felt in this city that there should be any trouble with the rate in the trans-Mississippi territory, as a big attendance from Texas and the other states there has been relied upon. Developments in Texas are being awaited anxiously, for the feeling here is that the veterans of Texas themselves can do more with their railroad lines than anybody else can. The fight is being waged vigorously from this end, however. The general chairman of the reunion committee has written to every camp of veterans and sons of veterans asking them to exert their influence. He has also written to the railroads involved in the controversy to ascertain why Chattanooga and the western veterans are being discriminated against.

The unfavorable attitude of the southwestern railroads is all the more surprising to the people of this city in view of the fact that the 1914 reunion will probably—almost certainly—go west of the river. It was understood at Macon that San Antonio was generally favored for the 1914 reunion. Of course if the reunion goes to a Texas city or any place west of the Mississippi, the meeting next year would depend very largely for success on a large attendance from east of the Mississippi.

COMPARISON OF RAINFALL FOR TWO SEASONS

According to the records of H. P. Sugg, weather observer, the total rainfall for January, February and March of the present year was 5 49-100 inches. During the same period of 1912 it was 6 25-100 inches, a difference of three-quarters of an inch.

FLOOD SITUATION

STILL THREATENING

Memphis, Tenn., April 7.—While the situation admittedly is grave, dispatches received here tonight indicate that the levees along the central stretches of the Mississippi river so far are holding well against the greatest flood in the history of the valley. "Sandbolls" have developed at several points and at others burrowing animals are causing trouble but the damage to the dikes has not assumed alarming proportions, according to the St. Francis levee board and the headquarters of the United States engineer corps here. Rains, which if prolonged, would be a serious menace, are reported from St. Louis as far south as Hickman, Ky.

Tonight's gauge reading shows a stationary stage at New Madrid, Mo., 50 miles South of Cairo while at Cairo a rise of one-tenth was recorded. The rise at Cairo, however, is attributed to local rains. At Memphis the stage tonight at 7 o'clock was 45.2 feet, a rise of three-tenths in 12 hours. The record height of last year when levees broke on both sides of the river, was 45.7 feet.

TO SOLVE FARM

MARKETS PROBLEM

Chicago, Ill., April 8.—A notable gathering of country bankers, railroad officials, economists, agricultural experts and other persons interested in the welfare of the American farmer and the American public in general met in Chicago today and entered upon a three-day discussion of the important problem of marketing and farm credits. The conference is in line with the letter addressed by President Taft a year ago to the governors of the different states proposing a farm credit system as a means for reducing the cost of production of food products and resulting in ultimate relief to the consumer from the high cost of living.

The conference will seek a remedy for the existing conditions, which have resulted in farm produce being sold at almost prohibitive prices in certain localities, while in many of the producing centers the same lines of produce were going to waste for the lack of a profitable market. Better methods of distribution and easier methods of financing farm operations are suggested as the solutions of the problem. Incidentally, the conference will urge the creation of a bureau of markets of the United States Department of Agriculture to aid in the work of improving present conditions.

Select Head of Catholic Order.

Montreal, April 8.—Following a period of seven days spent in prayer and meditation thirty-two members of the Congregation of Notre Dame, constituting an "electoral board," met today at the Mother House of the order in this city and cast ballots for a new head of the order to succeed the late Rev. Sister St. Onet, who died several months ago. There were no candidates and each elector was free to vote for any one of the 1,500 nuns of the order. The voting was by secret ballot and public announcement of the result is not expected for some time. The Congregation of Notre Dame is the largest of all Catholic teaching orders of Canada, maintaining schools and seminaries in many of the principal cities from the Atlantic to the Pacific.

The Tulsa World says that Sidney Suggs' goat is again in danger from the legislature. However, it is not likely that the genial state highwayman will lose his goat at this time, for the simple reason that said animal possesses a greater surplus of lives than any cat on record. The goat has won every round so far.

When one more state ratifies the amendment for the election of senators by direct vote it will become a part of the constitution. This amendment has made record breaking time in the way of ratification and it is now certain that the next man to go to the senate will be the choice of the people and not of the politicians controlling a state legislature. It will save the states thousands of dollars by removing one of the chief causes of a legislative deadlock.

THINGS ONE CAN'T LOSE

By GENE DUEY.

"Hold still a minute, while I fasten your collar pin, Gert," commanded the girl with the snappy black eyes. "You'll be losing that wonderful good as gold pin some day if you don't keep it fastened."

"That's just what I'd like to do," announced the girl with the pin and the imitation Irish lace waist. "Honest to goodness, Carrie, I've had that pin three years, and I simply can't lose it! I lost a solid gold, 18 carat pin one day, and I stopped in at a ten cent store, and bought this one to use temporarily, and I've used it ever since. My real gold pin I had three days when I lost it, but this little old cheap one sticks to me like a mortgage on a farm."

"That's always the way with anything you want to get rid of. You simply can't lose it. A friend of my mother's gave her a vase for Christmas one year; got it as a premium with some laundry soap, I guess. It was the awfulest looking thing you ever saw, with big, red roses standing out on it like doorknobs. Ma said she would be so thankful if somebody would accidentally tip that thing off the mantel and break it."

"Well, I pulled it off the mantel once when I was dusting, and it rolled across the carpet and turned its awful red roses up at me without even a chip in it. And ma has another little ornament that she just sets her heart on. It's a cloisonnay, I believe they call it. One day I was just passing the piano and jarred it a little, when down it went on the piano bench and chipped a big piece out of it, and put a dint in the piano bench as big as your hat!"

"It surely is funny the way things stick to you when you don't want them—that's a fact," agreed the young woman with the snappy black eyes.

"I was going down the street one wet day and I had on a pair of rubbers that were just about worn out. One of them kept slipping off at the heel, until it nearly drove me crazy, so I decided to kick it off and let it go. I gave my foot a flirt and off came the rubber, and I trotted along peacefully in the rain."

"About half a block down the street somebody touched me on the arm, and I turned around and there was a good looking young man holding out my old battered rubber. 'Beg pardon,' he says, 'but I saw you lose this. May I put it on for you?'

"Beg Pardon," He Says.

"What could I do but stick out my foot and let that nice young man put on my old mangled rubber? But I was so mad at him that I wanted to tell him not to meddle with—my affairs."

"If it had been a new rubber there wouldn't have been a soul in sight to see you lose it or to play the fairy prince to your Cinderella," remarked the girl with the imitation Irish lace waist.

"You know Mrs. Brown, who runs the boarding house where I live. She fixes up lunches for me to bring to the office. Of course, I pay extra for them, but I get kind of tired of them sometimes. One day last week she tied up a lunch in a newspaper for me, and I didn't put the string around it very tight, and before I got over to the station the string was off and I had visions of myself strewn pickles and doughnuts all over the train, and I thought I would just ditch the whole package in the station and buy a lunch downtown."

"Well, when I went to get on the train I had left the package on the seat in the station and made a dash for the car steps. Just as I was comfortably seated an old lady dashed into the coach and squeezed past the crowd until she got to where I was sitting. What did she have in her hands but my lunch, bursting out on all sides of the newspaper!"

"Of course, I had to thank her. I didn't dare to leave that package in the train for fear somebody else would follow me over to the office and present it to me again, so I had to carry the feed over to the office as tenderly as if I loved it. So I had to eat it at noon, after all. If that newspaper had contained something really valuable I'll bet neither wishes, pleadings nor threats would have restored it to my aching heart again."

"It surely is the limit, Gert," declared the girl with the snappy black eyes.—Chicago Daily News.

WHERE GRASS WON'T GROW

Replanted Every Spring in South Gardens of Treasury—Various Forms of Fertilizer Tried.

Grass will not grow in the south gardens of the treasury—that is, it will not grow as grass should grow. It dies every fall and is replanted every spring. Various forms of fertilizer have been tried. The treasury gardener told the Rambler that the south lawns have been overlaid with bone dust and every other plant food, but that the grass in the treasury garden would die even if the lawns were sprinkled with gold dust.

Go to the south front of the treasury. The grass in the southwest lawn is dead and dry. A little green may be seen around the lone pine tree that stands there and under the shelter of the box bushes that border the lawn, but that is all. Beyond this the grass is as dry and dead as last year's hay. And it will not come up in the spring. In the southeast garden the condition is nearly the same, only small patches of live turf showing there. The pine tree that was planted in the middle of that lawn, though it was tenderly nursed, died.

"Grasses will not thrive there," said a treasury official, standing at a window in the south front and sadly gazing down at the dead lawn. "We plant that plot every spring, fertilize, water and nurse it. Under this care the turf takes on verdure in the spring and retains it until the leaves begin to fall. That is all."

It has been suggested that samples of the soil be sent to the department of agriculture, and that the services of a soil expert and an agrologist be called for in behalf of the treasury lawn.

HE GOT THE CIGAR LIGHTER

William Collins of Senate Press Gallery Received One Just for the Hinting.

William Collins, acting assistant superintendent of the senate press gallery, never overlooks a bet and there hangs a tale that is being told around the capitol. Mr. Collins had an errand to the senate office building and he met one of his friends in the structure.

"Did you hear about Reynolds' present?" Collins was asked by his friend. Mr. Collins hadn't heard.

"Don't say where you got the information, because Reynolds probably wouldn't like it," remarked the friend, lowering his voice. "He was given a box of fine cigar lighters, and I think he will give you one if you ask him right."

The concluding words were lost on Mr. Collins. He had started for Mr. Reynolds' office, he being in charge of the capitol's plumbing. Mr. Collins greeted Mr. Reynolds effusively, inquired especially after the condition of his health, told him he was looking very well and then incidentally remarked:

"I hear you got a fine present, and you know I have always been a good friend of yours."

Reynolds did not need further hinting. He called to an assistant in the next room, asking if there were any of the cigar lighters left.

"I think there are two or three left," came the reply. Mr. Collins looked hopeful.

"All right, let Collins have one," remarked Mr. Reynolds.

Mr. Collins was profuse in his thanks, until the man from the other room approached. Collins was handed a match.

THIS JOB STUMPS UNCLE SAM

Carpenter Has "Hunch," and Personally Applies for Place as Xylotomy's Assistant.

Having sent out an appeal for some one to pass an examination for the position of assistant in xylotomy in the forest service, the civil service commission now wishes it hadn't.

Ever since the call for a patriot who would bring to the job the qualifications for a college professor and consent to exchange his learning for a government salary of $1,000 a year, the commissioners have been busy explaining the meaning of the term. When the office opened the other day a forbidding-looking visitor was waiting the chief clerk of the commission. "Say, 'lo," said the stranger. "I'm a carpenter, and a guy gimme the hunch that you wanted a 'sillytommy.' Here I am. The guy told me it had something to do with 'woodworkin'."

The chief clerk explained that under the examination requirements the aspirant for the place would have to elucidate many scientific problems, disclose a university training, a knowledge of botany and a complete mastery of the German language.

"What!" shouted the applicant, making for the door, "all dat for $325 a day?"

The clerical force spent hours explaining to callers the meaning of the term. The word was not to be found in the dictionary.

Design for Tablets.

The navy department has decided upon a design for the tablets which are to be cast out of the brass scrap taken out from the wreck of the Maine. There will be about 1,200 tablets cast. By act of congress these will be available only to municipalities and the patriotic societies. Recipients of the tablets will have to pay the cost of making them. Information about them can be secured from the navy department.

AT ONCE! CLOGGED NOSTRILS OPEN, HEAD COLDS AND CATARRH VANISH

Breathe Freely! Clears Stuffed-up, Inflamed Nose and Head and Stops Catarrhal Discharge. Cures Dull Headache.

Try "Ely's Cream Balm."

Get a small bottle anyway, just to try it—Apply a little in the nostrils and instantly your clogged nose and stopped-up air passages of the head will open; you will breathe freely; dullness and headache disappear. By morning! the catarrh, cold-in-head or catarrhal sore throat will be gone.

End such misery now! Get the small bottle of "Ely's Cream Balm" at any drug store. This sweet, fragrant balm dissolves by the heat of the nostrils; penetrates and heals the inflamed, swollen membrane which lines the nose, head and throat; clears the air passages; stops nasty discharges and a feeling of cleansing, soothing relief comes immediately.

Don't lay awake tonight truggling for breath, with head stuffed; nostrils closed, hawking and blowing. Catarrh or a cold with it's running nose, foul mucous dropping into the throat and raw dryness is distressing but truly needless.

Put your faith—just once—in "Ely's Cream Balm" and your cold or catarrh will surely disappear.

Economical Ironing

To iron economically you must not waste heat.

Ironing with ordinary flat irons is very wasteful of heat; most of the heat goes up the kitchen chimney; a lot of it is wasted in charring the ironing pad and in scorching the clothes.

Ironing with a

is quite different—all the heat is in the iron ready to go into the pieces ironed instead of going into the room or up the kitchen chimney. None of it is wasted.

To use only the amount of heat actually needed for ironing, be it either heavy damp pieces or laces, embroidery or other light goods is real economy.

That's why Hot Point Irons are used in thousands of homes throughout our country.

PONTOTOC COUNTY TEACHERS TO MEET

The date of the next meeting of the Pontotoc County Teachers' association has been set for April 18 and 19. The meeting will be held at Roff. Besides the teachers part of the program the county spelling match and county field meet will be held at this time. The last named events bid fair to draw considerable attention and add to the general interest of the occasion.

A program will be published in a few days.

ANOTHER TRADES

DAY IN MAY

The business men of Ada were sufficiently pleased with the first Trades Day to favor another one on the first Monday in May. The commercial club will at once begin arranging the details and with the advancing season it will be possible to put on more exhibits than at the first one. The June Trades Day should be still better.

The Majestic will show a moving picture of the Dayton flood scenes Thursday afternoon and evening. All the principal scenes of that awful time will be shown. Friday evening the program will be given for the benefit of the cemetery association. This evening Pathe's Weekly will be a feature. The Widow's Might is a roaring Irish comedy featuring the famous Marshall P. Wilder.

C. E. Parsons of Oklahoma City, representing the Webb Motor fire apparatus, was looking after business matters in the city today.

This evening the program at the De Sota will consist of two interesting stories. The first is Jocular Winds, featuring the Thanhouster stars. Her Neighbor is a comedy in which a young lady decides that she will establish an Adamless Eden. She and several girl friends undertake to manage an orange grove without the aid of a mere man, but like all other Utopian dreams it finally vanishes when the heroine surrenders her heart to a handsome man.

No doubt a number of subscribers failed to find their copies of the News Monday evening. This was due to a breakdown in the mechanical department which delayed the paper over two hours beyond its customary time. Consequently it was after dark when the carrier boys reached most of the places on their routes.

CHICKASHA WOMAN CON- FESSES POISONING HUSBAND

Chickasha, Okla., April 8.—In a signed and sworn written statement, made in the presence of four witnesses, Mrs. Ada Woodward, widow of R. S. Woodward, who died after eating a can of sardines, confessed she placed arsenic in the sardines with the intention of causing her husband's death so she could collect $1,000 life insurance her husband carried and run away with John Tremont, an Italian shoemaker, with whom she had been infatuated for several months past. The confession was made Saturday afternoon, but the full details are being withheld by the officials for the reason, they state, another arrest is expected in the case.

Woodward died after eating a can of sardines at his home in this city on March 27. He had been ill for a week, and it is charged by the state's attorney that the attempt which proved successful was the second one made to bring about the grocer's death.

Noted Churchmen at Unveiling.

Hattiesburg, Miss., April 8.—In Trinity church in this city there was unveiled this afternoon a costly memorial window, believed to be the only tribute of the church in America to the venerable Society for the Propagation of the Gospel. The society, which has its headquarters in London, is one of the oldest Protestant missionary organizations in the world. The unveiling was accompanied by impressive ceremonies attended by many eminent representatives of the Episcopal church gathered here for the annual council meeting of the Mississippi diocese. The Rev. Dr. Simpson-Atmore, rector of Trinity Church, presided at the exercises and the Rt. Rev. Theodore DuBose Bratton, bishop of Mississippi, performed the unveiling ceremony. The Rt. Rev. Edwin G. Weed, bishop of Florida, preached the sermon. The memorial was accepted in behalf of the Society for the Propagation of the Gospel by a representative of Bishop Courtney of New York, who is the only vice president of the society in the United States.

The design of the window is "Christ the Sower." The forty bishops of the Episcopal church in America, together with the late J. Pierpont Morgan and other leading laymen, contributed to the fund for its purchase. From the other side of the Atlantic contributions were received from the Rt. Hon. Arthur J. Balfour, the Lord Bishop of Southwell the Archdeacon of Nottingham and a number of others. A message of greeting from His Grace the Archbishop of Canterbury was read at the unveiling.

A valuable dressing for flesh wounds, burns, scalds, old sores, rash, chafed skin is BALLARD'S SNOW LINIMENT. It is both healing and antiseptic. Price 25c, 50c and $1.00 per bottle. Sold by Ramsey Drug Co.

Defalcation Causes Bank Failure.

McAlester, Ok. April 7.—The First National bank of Canadian closed its doors today and its affairs are in the hands of Bank Examiners Robert Neal and Frank M. Butcher.

It is stated that a shortage of about $20,000 has been discovered. The bank had a capital of $20,000, a majority of which is owned by persons at Galesburg, Ill. The surplus and undivided profits amount to $4,500 while the deposits are about $70,000.

It is stated that the shortage is due to the cashier, F. G. Gillock, using bank funds in connection with the townsite of Gillock and the Gillock Oil Co.

There are efforts being made on the part of his friends to make good the amount of the shortage, in which event the bank will likely resume at once.

Otherwise another bank may be organized to take over the unquestionably good assets of the bank and its business.

Rheumatic Blood is Whole Story

Wonderful Specific for Sciatica, Lumbago, and a Cure for Dreaded Arterial Rheumatism.

There is a host of pills, powders, tablets and what-not for rheumatism, but they all lack the first essential to being a natural medicine. To begin with, rheumatism is simply a name given to designate a variety of pains, and can only be reached by irrigating the entire blood supply with a natural assimilating antitoxin. True, the pains may be eased with narcotics or the acids may be neutralized for the time being with other acids. But these merely temporize and do not even lead to a cure. There is but one standard rheumatic remedy, and it reflects the best thought of the day. It is prepared in the great Swift Laboratory in Atlanta, Ga., and sold in all drug stores under the name of S. S. S. at $1.00 a bottle.

Starvation has been advocated by many as a cure for rheumatism, and yet S. S. S. accomplishes in fact what fastidists proclaim in theory and without the punishment of starvation. Hot springs and sweating are often recommended, but S. S. S. does all that is expected of these expensive and weakening methods. It is conceded by the closest students of the subject that rheumatism is caused in most cases by an acid condition of the blood and aggravated by the remedies commonly used for relief. In other cases rheumatism is the result of nerve depression; in still others it is the effect of some scrofulous blood condition, having been treated with mercury, iodides, arsenic and other poisonous mineral drugs. The recoveries of all these types of rheumatism by the use of S. S. S. is a wonderful tribute to the natural efficacy of this remarkable medicine, for it is assimilated just as naturally, just as specifically, and just as well ordained as the most acceptable, most palatable and most readily digested food. Do not fail to get a bottle of S. S. S. today. You will be astonished at the results. If your rheumatism is of such a nature that you would like to consult a great specialist confidentially, write to The Swift Specific Co., 127 Swift Bldg., Atlanta, Ga.

Too Bad.

T. O. Cullins, scout master, Boy Scouts, informs the News that he received the applications from the following men of Ada to join his Scouts: Byron Norrell, R. E. Haynes, Sam Torbett, U. G. Winn, W. A. Riley, C. T. Angel, Bob Blanks, L. T. Walters, Budd Gregg. However, he felt constrained to reply:

"Sorry I could not accept them as their character was too awful. I could not disgrace my boys."

Infants Demand "Ragtime."

A song writer says ragtime is as legitimate music as the lullaby. "The ragtime," he says, "marks the passing of the old-fashioned mother who lulled the baby into dreamland. Today the infant is 'ragged' to sleep, and, according to the statement of an experienced nursery maid, they will not close an eye unless this particular kind of music is hummed while they are being rocked."

Startling Sight.

Soon after the installment of the telegraph in Fredericksburg, Va., a little dandy saw a piece of newspaper that had blown up on one of the telegraph wires and caught there. Running to the house in a great state of excitement, he cried: "Miss Liza, come quick! Dem wires done buss and done let all the news out!"

WILSON WILL DELIVER MESSAGE IN PERSON

Washington, April 7.—Congress, opening in extraordinary session today under democratic domination, was enlivened by the activities of a healthy youth, the Progressive organization in the House, and an invasion of petition-bearing suffragists. But even these novelties were overshadowed by preparations for the event of tomorrow when President Wilson will deliver his tariff message by word of mouth to the Nation's lawmakers.

Victor Murdock, leader of the new Progressive party in the lower branch aided by his small band of followers, attracted unusual interest, and at the very outset stirred up a fight over the seating of H. Olin Young of Michigan.

The heralding of the coming of the president of the United States, however, was the principal subject of official and unofficial discussion. The Senate hesitated when a resolution, adopted previously by the House providing for a joint session tomorrow to listen to his consideration. It was a stunning proposal. Not in the lifetime of any veteran statesman present had such a thing even been considered. History, they supposed, had closed on that custom a century or more ago. First, an effort was made to have the resolution lie over under the rule, but Vice President Marshall ruled it was a resolution of the highest privilege.

Before it was adopted Senator Williams deprecated the president's decision to enter the halls of congress and speak his mind to the "people's representatives." He expressed the hope that such an event never would occur again in the administration. He doubted the wisdom of the move, averring that it could not aid in bringing about the legislation for which the people were clamoring.

In the House the resolution was adopted without debate as soon as Majority Leader Underwood introduced it. There plans for the president's welcome took on a gala aspect. Members scrambled for the special tickets to the galleries, which were issued for tomorrow, the occasion being looked forward to as an epochal event in the history of the administration.

CUTS DOWN OLD SYCAMORE

Mrs. John B. Henderson Could Not See Runaway, So She Removes the Obstruction.

Because a big, half-dead sycamore tree on a government reservation obstructed her view from her residence, "Henderson castle," Mrs. John B. Henderson, wife of ex-Senator Henderson and prominent Washington society woman, with two husky black laborers and a cross cut saw, removed the sycamore. Mrs. Henderson held a lantern for the workmen. Three police stood by and by word protested. They had been warned by Mrs. Henderson that if they carried their protest so far as to lay violent hands on her she would make them regret it.

Mrs. Henderson lives in the famous "Henderson castle," which is on the brow of the hill topping Sixteenth street, Washington's most fashionable thoroughfare, and sometimes referred to as "the avenue of presidents."

It was through Mrs. Henderson's money and influence that this part of Sixteenth street was extended and improved. Adjoining the Henderson property is that of the French embassy, the home of Alfred Vanderbilt and of former Ambassador Henry White.

The sycamore, according to Mrs. Henderson, has been slowly dying for the last five years and it is now more than half dead. She asked the superintendent of trees and parks to cut down the tree. He refused.

The other evening she was in the window of the "castle" when the horse ridden by Miss Martha Bowers ran away. The runaway horse and its clinging rider were seen by Mrs. Henderson as they passed the latter's home. The big sycamore prevented her seeing the accident to the horse and rider at the foot of the hill.

It is not known what the superintendent of parks and grounds is going to do.

ADOPT OCCIDENTAL DRESS

For First Time Diplomatic Representatives of China Are Wearing Western Clothes.

For the first time the diplomatic representatives of China at Washington are wearing occidental dress. Society is keenly interested in Mme. Chang and the Misses Alice and Lilian Chang, wife and daughters of the minister of China, who have fitted themselves out with a splendid collection of Parisian frocks and furbelows.

Mme. Chang and her daughters made their first appearance in occidental costume at the recent dinner given by President and Mrs. Taft for the diplomatic corps and the three Chinese gentlemen wore frocks in which they made their first state appearance as typical daughters of the new republic of China.

Although only a year ago they were going about in their gorgeously picturesque native dress, heavy with embroideries and flecked with gems. Mme. Chang and her daughters, the latter of the accepted American debutante age, have cleverly adapted themselves to the new apparel. Their heads, formerly wound with shining braids, kept in place by jeweled pins, and hitherto innocent of hats, are nowadays smartly coiffed and crowned with plumed creations from New York and Paris; their forms, hitherto innocent of stays, are now properly fitted with the latest approved models, and their feet, erstwhile incased in Chinese slippers, with gemmed and embroidered embellishment, are now adorned with smart colonial touches off with glittering buckles, or in patent leather oxfords surmounted with light colored spats.

FORT TO GUARD WASHINGTON

Gen. W. H. Bixby Urges the Establishment of Adequate Defense at Cape Henry.

A great fortification at Cape Henry, with guns which would sweep the mouth of the Chesapeake bay and stand as an efficient guard against attacks on the city of Washington by a hostile fleet, was asked for by Gen. W. H. Bixby, chief of engineers, U. S. A., who appeared before the fortifications subcommittee of the house appropriations committee the other day. The meeting was an executive one.

The amount of money asked for in the initial appropriation for the proposed fortification is $150,000, which would perhaps do little more than buy the site which the army wants for the purpose. This amount is but one of the proposed appropriations which the army officers want, and altogether the new projects proposed by them would cost almost double the amount of the fortifications bill for the present year. The total of the estimated needs of the coast defenses for the United States and island possessions, excluding the isthmian canal, amounts to $7,009,834, while the present appropriation carries a little over $4,000,000. With Gen. Bixby were Gen. Leonard Wood, Gen. Weaver and Col. Burr. The fortifications subcommittee is composed of Representative Swager, Sherley of Kentucky, chairman, and Representatives Rauch, Kinkead, Dwight and Good.

Home Knit Gloves.

A pair of knit wool gloves made by Mrs. Louis Sorr, ninety-four years old, of Grand Rapids, Mich., has been received at the White House. The gift was accompanied by a letter from Mrs. Sorr, in which she said that she knit the gloves herself, and hoped the president would accept "her humble gift."
